

Etienne Coudert

Celcius Energy

Education/studies

- Engineering degree in Geosciences from École Nationale Supérieure de Géologie ENSG (French grande école in Nancy) with a specialization in Geology of the Energies
- Specialized Engineering degree in Petroleum Geosciences (Subsurface Technologies for Sustainable Energies) from the IFP School (French grande école in Rueil-Malmaison) carried out in work-study program with TotalEnergies.

Details of current professional position

- Geoscientist/geothermal engineer for Celsius Energy (SLB New Energy Business)

Details of current projects

- In the process of completing a project consisting of 56 vertical and inclined geothermal probes measuring 180 meters in length to provide 100% geothermal cover for a factory in central France