

Dr. Markus Kübert

tewag Technologie - Erdwärmeanlagen - Umweltschutz GmbH

Education/studies

- Studied environmental engineering at the Weihenstephan-Triesdorf University of Applied Sciences
- Doctorate at the Centre for Applied Geosciences at the University of Tübingen

Details of current professional position

- Managing Director of tewag GmbH
- Member of the guideline committees VDI 4640 Sheet 3 and Sheet 5

Details of current projects

- Residential neighbourhood Am Schrankenbuckel in Brühl: Geothermal well system with 3 extraction wells and 4 absorption wells
- Ziegeläcker residential neighbourhood in Hösbach: Cold local heating network with a geothermal probe system as a heat source
- Hellerhöfe Frankfurt am Main: Geothermal probe field with 330 boreholes for the thermal supply of an office and residential complex with heating and cooling
- Feuerbach school campus: energy pile system with 225 thermally activated bored piles to supply a new school building with heating and cooling
- FluSeeQ research project for the thermal utilisation of surface waters